

Kansas State University Libraries
New Prairie Press

Symphony in the Flint Hills Field Journal

2022 - Weather in the Flint Hills

Getting Personal

Symphony in the Flint Hills, Inc.

Follow this and additional works at: <https://newprairiepress.org/sfh>

Recommended Citation

Symphony in the Flint Hills, Inc. (2022). "Getting Personal," Symphony in the Flint Hills Field Journal.

To order hard copies of the Field Journals, go to shop.symphonyintheflinthills.org.

The Field Journals are made possible in part with funding from the Fred C. and Mary R. Koch Foundation.

This Event is brought to you for free and open access by the Conferences at New Prairie Press. It has been accepted for inclusion in Symphony in the Flint Hills Field Journal by an authorized administrator of New Prairie Press. For more information, please contact cads@k-state.edu.

GETTING PERSONAL

Unique life experiences. We all have them. For folks in the Kansas Flint Hills, these life experiences are often related to weather.

There is an old joke in Chase County that a person isn't considered a local unless their family resided in the county prior to the '51 flood. Weather is life here. Through the tragedy of storms, people come together to build a stronger and healthier community. Perseverance is required for Flint Hills living.

OPPOSITE PAGE

A Great Piece of Prairie

Michael Kreuger

“Nature is ever at work building and pulling down, creating and destroying, keeping everything whirling and flowing, allowing no rest but in rhythmical motion, chasing everything in endless song out of one beautiful form into another.”

John Muir, Scottish-American naturalist and author

Dead Thicket
Clive Fullagar